Introduction: The saying that is going around these days is, "Whatever got you here, can't get you there!" The leadership style has to match the times in terms of speed, effectiveness and continuity. One has to enrich and empower the leadership qualities he/she has got and get prepared for the rollercoaster ride in today's world. For instance, I heard someone remarking, "The CEO is not in charge, but the VALUES are!"

One has to explore the new leadership avenues and reach out for the relevant action plan for present times. The conventional definition of management - 'getting work done through people' is being sidelined for the latest definition - 'developing people through work'. Leadership and Management has blended together to form something known as 'leadership'.

Objective: The one day session on ENRICH THE LEADER IN YOU will discuss the latest strategies to be adopted by leader managers. The participants will be provided with tips and action plan to achieve results by fast and smart work than cutthroat competition.

Methodology: Activities, case studies and success/failure stories will form part of the intervention.

Audience: Anyone who is a leader, manager or a combination of both can attend the session to hone their skills to prepare for the times ahead.

Content: Qualities and Role Models, Envisioning, Disruption, Sustaining Success and Managing Failures, Facing the Challenge of Change, Team Empowerment, Developing next level of Leadership etc.
