DEVELOPMENTAL PROJECT FORMULATION

Saturday, March 23, 2019 - 5.00 to 8.00 p.m.

Besides carrying out routine work, a professional is expected to undertake improvement and growth projects including learning and development of teams and individuals.

Project Formulation is the first stages in the lifecycle of a project. The formulation stage is also called Initiation, Conceptualization, Definition and Pre-Project.

Project Formulation is a concise, exact statement of a project to set the boundaries or limits of work to be performed by the project. It is a formal document that gives a distinctive identity of the project and precise meaning of project work to prevent conflict, confusion, or overlap.
