SMARTER DECISIONS WITH AI

From Insight to Action

Organizations today have more data and AI tools than ever, yet many leaders struggle to turn analytical outputs timely decisions. Dashboards, forecasts and generative AI responses often go unused because of low trust, unclear ownership or weak links to business priorities. This session will give participants a simple, practical approach to bridge that gap, frame the right question, use AI to analyse and explore options, challenge the output critically and convert it into accountable action. It will also feature bias, hallucination and responsible-use risks that every decisionmaker must understand. The session is non-technical and leader focused.

CONTENTS

- Frame business decisions so AI and analytics can support them effectively
- Use generative AI tools for faster analysis.
- Critically assess AI outputs for reliability, bias and risk
- Balance data-driven recommendations with human judgment
- Convert insights into clear, accountable actions
- Apply basic responsible-AI practices in everyday decisions

FOR WHOM

Middle and senior managers, functional heads, business unit leaders and entrepreneurs who use or oversee analytics and AI-driven insights.
