Technical Textiles (TT) is a high technology based sunrise industry with new developments taking in both raw materials and final products. TT finds applications in automotive & aerospace, medical technology, building & construction, agriculture and many other area.

Today, Gujarat is no.2 in export earning among Indian states. To take it to no.1 position, the state must put focus on export of high valuehigh technology products such as TT. The growth of domestic market through “Make in India” initiative will create manufacturing scale to undertake exports in a competitive landscape.

Globally, the technical textiles contribute to about 27 percent of textile industry, in some of the western countries its share is even 50 percent while in India it is a meagre 11 percent.
